WELCOME TO TSA 2024

It is a great pleasure to be welcoming delegates to Lancaster for the TSA's 22nd annual conference. We have a fantastic conference in store. This year's meeting features panels from a wide range of disciplines, including history, politics and international relations, and literary and cultural studies. We have special conference themes on Transatlantic Romanticisms, Transatlantic Environmentalism, and The North Atlantic Treaty at 75. The last of these includes a plenary roundtable session on NATO at 75: Navigating Old and New Challenges.

Our theme on NATO is represented in the keynote lecture from Dr Benedetta Berti, NATO Head of Policy Planning. This keynote lecture continues our new annual Alan and Beverly Dobson Lecture, named in honour the TSA's founding Chair.

We are delighted to be returning to Lancaster for this year's meeting, having visited previously in 2019. Lancaster's transatlantic connections date back to the eighteenth century when the city was a significant port for trade with the West Indies. Today, Lancaster is a thriving market town with a wide selection of pubs, restaurants and shops. You can learn more about Lancaster's past in a specially arranged viewing of the art exhibition, Facing the Past: Black Lancastrians, taking place at the historic Judge's Lodgings museum in Lancaster city centre on the evening of Tuesday 9 July.

Continuing the strong social element of TSA, a wine reception, suitably named in honour of Alan and Beverly Dobson, will take place on the opening evening of the conference. The conference will close with a formal dinner at the renowned 1930s art-deco Midland Hotel in Morecambe.

The annual conference will see the award of a number of prizes, including the TSA-Cambridge University book prize and the DC Watt prize. As with previous conferences, the TSA has happily offered a number of travel grants to early career scholars to aid their attendance at the conference.

The TSA AGM will take place during the conference, as well as the annual meeting of the TSA management committee. Please come along to the AGM to hear about recent developments in TSA and plans for further ventures.

Wishing you a very enjoyable conference,

Thomas Mills, TSA Chair and Local Organiser
